Haver & Boecker Hires Certified Sales Manager

ST. CATHARINES, Ontario (July 11, 2016) — Haver & Boecker, a leading manufacturer in processing, handling, mixing, packing, filling, palletizing and loading systems, hired Ron Gundlach as its southwestern sales manager. He brings more than 20 years of industry experience to his new role.

As sales manager, Gundlach works alongside General Manager Lyndell Fuller at Haver & Boecker Grand Canyon, from where he will focus on helping customers in the southwestern U.S., including Arizona, California, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah. Gundlach works one-on-one with new and existing customers to help optimize their aggregates and mining operations with the appropriate equipment and services. He's also focused on bringing efficient washing solutions to the area, which has struggled with drought and water restrictions for many years.

"Ron is a great fit for Haver & Boecker," Fuller said. "He brings extensive experience to our sales team and a deep understanding of the industry, which helps him easily relate to our customers. Ron quickly recognizes their needs and develops solutions to enhance their screening process."

Prior to Haver & Boecker, Ron spent several years as a lead foreman at a portable custom crushing company, and he also worked as an equipment salesman. Beyond his industry
